The Case of Edward J. Kennedy, Charged With Opening Letters, Etc.

[S. F. Call, April 8th.]
Edward J. Kennedy, a youth of 17, was tried by a jury in the United States District Court yesterday on charges of "delaying, detaining, secreting and opening letters" which passed through his hands in October last, as a special delivery messenger connected with the Sacramento Post-

The testimony for the Governmen showed that during the month named about forty letters were missed, and that, although complaints were made as to their loss, they were not found until nearly two months after the youth's discharge, and then quite accidentally behind a lot of adthis was the work of an instant. Weaver was not killed, as the Chinaman evidently supposed, and immediately after the shot diated the confession, claiming that he had written it blindly at the dictation of Dep-uty Postmaster Leake. The youth proved face. He fired a shot through the door, then took an ax and smashed in a panel, and no doubt would have carried out his intention of a wholesale massacre, had not Weaver resorted to stratagem and frightened the murderer away by exclaiming,

"HERE COMES CHARLIE PAPST,
And he will kill the Chinaman!" Fearing his retreat would be cut off, the Chipaman of the control of the control out giving another thought to them.

To discredit this story evidence was in troduced that the missing letters hav being from various localities on the slope could not have been handled by the defendant as Oregon mail on the day in It was also shown that on th way out Kennedy passed four tables, against some of which he must have rushed on account of the narrowness of he passageway, and that therefore the shelves in the out-of-the way store-room could not have been the convenient place or depositing the letters which defendant pretended they were.

Two incidents occurring at the tria served to give the case more than a passing like a child, while the son stood unmove at the sight of his parent's anguish. The other episode was furnished by J. W. Stafford, who was the money-order olidays, when he resigned. His testi ony was introduced on behalf of the de ndant for the evident purpose of showng the looseness of the management of ne Sacramento Postoffice. The witness mas last, a surplus in his cash-sack of $200 from some to him, unaccountable source: also that his resignation, although roluntary on his part, was indirectly the result of a deficit of $470, for which he and the sum of Stafford said he pored over his accounts for fifteen days back, but ould not find where the deficit came from part of a safe, the key to which no one but himself had, he reduced the deficit to $270 which he also made good on his bond, and then resigned, completely discouraged The witness intimated that the money might have been abstracted while the safe was open during the day. He accused no one; yet the fact remained that there was a mysterious disappearance of money which he had to make good. Deputy Postmaster Leake, to contradict the effect of this testimony, stated that ground of incompetency, and because he could never draw up his balance-sheet could never draw up his balance-sheet after a day's work. He (Leake) had beome tired of remaining up every night antil 11 o'clock helping Stafford to strike his balance, in addition to his other duties

P. Merrin summoned E. T. Noble and T. B. Craig to assist him. Hastily arming hemselves, they sallied forth to meet the coming thieves. They had proceeded by short distance down the road when they saw the men approaching, and stationing drawn weapon and commanded the thieves to surrender. They answered his demand with curses, drew their weapons AND BEGAN SHOOTING AT HIM.

He returned the fire, but without effect. Noble, who was armed with a Winchester rifle, also opened fire on the thieves, bu his gun broke before he had succeeded i ing any effective work. Craig, who was armed with an old Colt's revolver, suc ceeded in wounding one of the horses slightly. The thieves escaped, and riding to Paige's ranch they stole a fresh horse and left one of their jaded animals at Chas. White's place. In the Central Colony they stole another horse and left their other animal. The officers are in hot pursuit, and will probably soon overtake them. One of them is named Frank Firman, and was raised at Plainsburg, Merced county. The other is Billy Hall an escaped convict. The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely nefited the consumers, as well as reliev ing the burden of home manufacturers pecially is this the case with Green's Aurust Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75cent size. The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and the German rup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

Tae proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CRRTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient. Use no other. A FANTASY.

- We may not choose our paths below, Nor pass the narrow bounds That still confine us as we go Upon our daily rounds.
- But visions of the far away,
- The beautiful, the true, Bright glimpses of a brighter day— Still come to greet our view. I breathe the city's stifled air, I tread its paths of stone, And 'mid the crowds that idly stare,
- And 'mid the crowds that I walk my way alone. As if up-built by magic hands, Fair temp es round me rise; And treasures rare from distant lands Here greet my wondering eyes. Wealth, beauty, fashion, walk the street,
- Sweet music greets the ear; Each day this thought I still repeat— "Man rules supremely here." But far beyond the crowded street
- And the city's gilded domes, I see the fields of waving wheat And the quiet country homes
- I see the lambs at play. I breathe again the balmy air That tells of fragrant flowers, And shield me from the sunlight's glare, In blossom-laden bowers.
- I turn to look on mountains grand
- And valleys far between—
 But works of art on every hand
 Dispel the cherished scene. Again the noise and din of trade
- Shut out all pleasing sounds, And I still make, as I have made, The city's beaten rounds. But in my heart is a vision fair,

But in my near the And a joyous melody, As the shell bears with it everywhere The music of the sea. —T. J. RICHARDS. LOVE IN A FOG.

A great cry of grief came up to Francesca's room from below, and then a sound of Annunziata sobbing and weeping.

Francesca sprang up and moved to the door, but as her hand was on the handle she paused. Francesca's heart had grown bitter and hard under her pain. She was the Signor Antonio. But—the gallant signor and hard under her pain. She was the Signor Antonio. But—the gallant signor and hard under her pain. bitter and hard under her pain. She was angry with the world, with babbo and Antonio, angry with old Nunziata, and hard the state of th most of all angry with herself. And just because she was angry with herself she began to wrap a chill mantle of self-justification about her. She and Nunziata had been rather estranged of late, and the last few days Francesca said to herself that An-nunziata had been unkind and sulky.

Oh, yes, that was it. She was as suller as it was possible to be. She had hardly spoken a word. Francesca liked to be spoilt and implored, although she turned away and cried. "Leave me in peace." Now, Annunziata had some trouble. Ah, she, too, would know the dreadful torment of suffering when all around was smiling with glee, smiling and beckoning. "Come,

be happy, be happy!"
Annunziata would now understand a little of her pain. But only a little, for the old cannot feel with those awful vivid throbs which rend the eager being of the young. So Francesca turned back with er worst feelings uppermost, and plunged her little hands about in the grain for her doves. Let Annunziata come to her it she wished for sympathy, and she made the grain slip through her fingers in golden streams. Why did Annunziata sob so bitterly? Such a pain began to creep about Francesca's heart! Presently she heard Annunziata coming up the stairs, sobbing all the while. Francesca's heart throbbed

Annunziata opened the door and came in with coffee and brioche on a tray. Her face was convulsed and lips twitched. She did not try to hide the disarray of her grief, but set the tray on the table near Francesca without a word and turned and left the room. As she shut the door, Francesca stood abashed for a moment, then she sprang after her and called in the passages in a vibrating voice:

"Signorina," replied the nurse.
"Annunziata, come back!" cried Fran She dared not go down stairs where the cesca, in an imperative tone. Annunziata followed Francesca back to her room.

"I do not care, Nunziata; I have told you I do not care for anything."

She could hear the wind rusting in the bamboos in the dry ditch. It was there she used to sit with Antonio on the worn stone bench and watch for babbo coming home from his scientific laboratory. It pleased her to linger there in the fragrant stillness, while the lizards crept close to her

"Nunziata," cried Francesca, turning her flaming eyes suddenly on the old nurse, "go away this minute, and leave me in peace." Annunziata sighed and went sorrowfully away; but in a very short time she returned again.

"The Signor Antonio goes to-morrow to the market at V—. He bids me inquire if he can do anything for the signorina." That wearisome, blundering Antonio again! Always questions when she wished to be quiet and watch the sun die over the hill!

"Nunziata," cried Francesca, turning her lizard to crawl on his hand.

Kind, faithful Antonio, dearest of brothers?! If he could but return and the old peaceful life go on as before, reading and singing and planting flowers, and laughing with Annunziata, as happiest brother and sister, while babbo smiled at them through the amiable mists that rose from his dreams of queer beasts. But Francesca was troubled at the bottom of her heart, for she knew she was deceiving herself and caressing an idle fancy. Antonio loved her with no brotherly love.

"Nothing, nothing, Nunziata. Why does the Signor Antonio plague me like this? I am far too unhappy to want ribbons or lace. He should know that."

"Pardon, signorina. Last year when the Signor Antonio started hurriedly without asking your will. you were very and scolded him well." Francesca burst into tears. They were all turning against her now. Even old Nunziata reproved her. They were very hard and she was so lonely, oh, so very lonely. Babbo was graver than ever, and stared at the Signor Dottore was odious with his stilly jokes. There was no one to whom she could tell her thoughts. The terrible tension of suspense was over. He was alive. What mattered anything so that he yet lived? "And the victory, signorina! The Garibaldini have gained the day everywhere"— Francesca threw herself on her knees by Annunziata and drew the apron from her face. The throng melted away from the door. She pulled the old trembling head down upon her bosom.

"Nunziata—Nunziata, mia," she sobbed. Annunziata's heart was soothed—thus rocked in the arms of the child she had re-ceived into the world. They mingled their tears and lamentations, while the poor pro-fessore looked on with moist, peering eyes and a sympathy he knew not how to express.

. "Ecco our Signor Antonio!" screamed Annunziata from the window, frantically waving her handkerchief.

He had come! A shadow darkened the portico, and Antonio walked out into the rich, broad light. Francesca stood motionless and spellbound. Her heart shrank with a sudden, agonizing pain, as she saw in a rapid glance the change wrought in his fine figure and handsome face. A sharp stab of irreparable sorrow pierced her when she noticed the empty sleeve pinned across his breast. Were those pale, wasted cheeks Antonio's? Mr. Beecher's Fishing Companion A good story is told of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher when years ago he spent a portion of his vacation as Litchfield. It was to accompany him, was detained on legal business by parties from out of town. "Never mind, Hollister," said Beecher,

'See here, my

man," said Mr. Beecher

the last three vintages having shown a phylloxera:

A grave old man and a maiden fair
Walked together at early morn;
The thrushes up in the clear cool air
Sang to the farmer planting his corn.
And oh! how sweet was the fresh-turne mound!
And oh! how fair were the budding trees!
For daisy's silver and daffodil's gold
Were full of the happy honey bees. "Be you Mr. Beecher?"
"Yes," laughed the great preacher; "but what of that?" "I was sure you had made a mistake, or perhaps you are most blind." "Ah, look! there's an empty nest," she said:

"And I wonder where sing the last year's birds?"

Then the old man quickly raised his head,

Though scarcely he noted her musing words;

He tore the nest from the swaying tree,

He flung to the winds its moss and hay,

And said: "When an empty nest you see,

Be sure that you throw it far away." "Not in the least, my man. Come, the sun is getting high; let's be off." Lampson made another stand against oc-cupying the same wagon seat with the great man, but finally all obstacles were removed and they started at a rapid pace down West Hill. The fishing was excellent, and Lampson drew up his lines about as rapidly as he could set them. Soon the bottom of the boat was well filled with pickerel, roach, and a few catfish and one bass. But Mr. Beecher had not been successful in making a single haul.

As Lampson was gathering up the fish, Mr. Beecher still sat in the boat and watched him with that serene expression upon his face as he said: "Don't tell me that the black man is the white man's in ferior. Look at the spoils of to-day. Which is the better man of the two?" From tha day out the colored people of Litchfield had a reverence for Mr. Beecher that exceeded that they felt for any other earthly human being, and Lampson especially was ready always to assert that he was one of the greatest of the great men of the age Our Worst Vine Pest and the Extent cf and time.—New Haven News.

Do you want a pure, blooming Complexion? If so, a few applications of Hagan's MAGNOLIA BALM will gratify you to your heart's content. It does away with Sallowness, Redness, Pimples, Blotches, and all diseases and imperfections of the skin. It overcomes the flushed appearance of heat, fatigue and excitement. It makes a lady of THIRTY appear but TWEN-TY; and so natural, gradual, and perfect are its effects, that it is impossible to detect its application.

THE CONTRACTOR OF THE

The following words, in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a remedy for those delicate diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women, must be of interest to every sufferer from such maladies. They are fair samples of the spontaneous expressions with which thousands give utterance to their sense of gratitude for the inestimable boon of health which has been restored to them by the use of this world-famed medicine.

JOHN E. SEGAR, of Millenbeck, Va., writes:
"My wife had been suffering for two or three years with female weakness, and had paid out one hundred dollars to physicians without relief. She took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it did her more good than all the medicine given to her by the physical years they had been practicing upon her."

Mrs. Gropper Hypery of Westfield N. V. $100

THE GREATEST Writes: "I was a great sufferer from leucorrhea, bearing-down pains, and pain continually across my back. Three bottles of your feet health. I treated with Dr. for nine months, without receiving any benefit.

The 'Favorite Prescription' is the greatest earthly boon to us poor suffering women."

Mrs. Sophia F. Boswell, White Cottage, O., writes: "I took eleven bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one bottle of your 'Pellets.' I am doing my work, and have been for some time. I have had to employ help for about sixteen years before I commenced taking your medicine. I have had to wear a supporter mest of the time; this I have had aside, and feel as well as I ever did." WONDERS.

Mrs. MAY GLEASON, of Nunica, Ottawa Co.
Mich., writes: "Your 'Favorite Prescription' has worked wonders in my case.

Again she writes: "Having taken several bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I have regained my health wonderfully, to the astonishattending to the duties of my household.

TREATING THE WRONG DISEASE.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here or there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some womb disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages his practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged

Mrs. E. F. Morgan, of No. 71 Lexington St.,

East Boston, Mass., says: "Five years ago I was a dreadful sufferer from uterine troubles.
Having exhausted the skill of three physicians, I was completely discouraged, and so weak I could with difficulty cross the room alone. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and using the local treatment recommended in his 'Common Sense Medical Adviser.' I commenced to improve at once. In three months I was perfectly cured, and have had no trouble since. I wrote a letter to my family paper, briefly mentioning how my health had been restored, and offering to send the full particulars to any one writing me for them, and enclosing a stamped-envelope for reply. I have received over four hundred letters. In reply, I have described my case and the treatment used, and have earnestly advised them to 'do likewise.' From a great many I have received second letters of thanks, stating that they had commenced the use of 'Favorite Prescription,' had sent the $1.50 required for the 'Medical Adviser,' and had applied the local treatment so fully and plainly laid down therein, and were much better already."

JEALOUS
Of Crystal, Mich., writes: "I was troubled with female weakness, leucorrhea and falling of the womb for seven years, so I had to keep my bed for a good part of the time. I doctored with an army of different physicians, and spent large sums of money, but received no lasting benefit. At last my husband persuaded me to try your medicines, which I was loath to do, because I was prejudiced against them, and the doctors said they would do me no good. I finally told my husband that if he would get me some of your medicines, I would try them against the advice of my physician. He got me six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription,' also six bottles of the 'Discovery,' for ten dollars. I took three bottles of 'Discovery,' and four of 'Favorite Prescription,' and I have been a sound woman for four years. I then gave the balance of the medicine to my sister, who was troubled in the same way, and she cured herself in a short time. I have not had to take any medicine now for almost four years."

THE OUTGROWTH OF A VAST EXPERIENCE.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing allments peculiar to females, at the Invalids Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maidades.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more agravated and obstinate cases which had baiffed their skill, prove if to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the rellef and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar allments.

I used one bottle of the 'Prescription,' five of the 'Discovery,' and four of the 'Prescription,' five of the 'Discovery,' and four of the 'Pleasant Purgative Pellets.' My health began to improve under the use of your medicine, and my strength came back. My difficulties have all disappeared. I can work hard all day, or walk four or five miles a day, and stand it well; and when I began using the medicine I could scarcely walk across the room, most of the time, and I did not think I could ever feel well again. I have a little baby girl eight months old. Although she is a little delicate in size and appearance, she is healthy. I give your remedies all the credit for curing me, as I took no other treatment after beginning their use. Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, and bodily health and vigor will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or bloodpoison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Rev. F. Asbury Howell, Pastor of the M. E. Church, of Silverton, N. J., says: "I was afflicted with eatarrh and indigestion. Boils and blotches began to arise on the surface of the skin, and I experienced a tired feeling and dullness. I began the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as directed by him for such complaints, and in one week's like a new man, and am now sound and well. The 'Pleasant Purgative Pellets' are the best remedy for bilious or sick headache, or tightness about the chest, and bad taste in the mouth, that I have ever used. My wife could not walk across the floor when she began to take your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' Now she can walk quite a little ways, and do some light work."

Skin Disease.—The "Democrat and News," of Cambridge, Maryland, says: "Mrs. Eliza Ann Poole, wife of Leonard Poole, of Williamsburg, Dorchester Co., Md., has been cured of a bad case of Eczema by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The disease appeared first in her feet, extended to the knees, covering the whole of the lower limbs from feet to knees, then attacked the elbows and became so severe as to prostrate her. After being treated by several physicians for a year or two she commenced the use of the medicine named above. She soon began to mend and is now well and hearty. Mrs. Poole thinks the medicine has saved her life and prolonged her days."

Mr. T. A. Ayres, of East New Market, Dorchester County, Md., vouches for the above facts.

Mrs. Ida M. Strong, of Ainsworth, Ind., writes:
"My little boy had been troubled with hip-joint disease for two years. When he commenced the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets,' he was confined to his bed, and could not be moved without suffering great pain. WHAT THE AMENDMENTS PROPOSE

On Tuesday next the people of this State are to vote upon three amendments to the Constitution. We have frequently pointed out the need for these measures, but the day of election being near at hand it is timely to recapitulate the reasons that should insure their adoption. .

In briefest terms, the propositions are to give the Governor power to fill a vacancy upon the Supreme bench for the unexpired term, instead of until the next general, election, as the law now stands.

To confer upon the Supreme Court the power to elect from its membership a presiding officer known as Chief Justice, instead, as now, making that selection a matter for political contest.

Open-Air Concert Committees.

The Open-Air Concert General Commit-The Open-Air Concert General Committees has appointed the following sub-committees to solicit funds for the sustenance of concerts during the ensuing season. The success of the enterprise depends entirely upon the manner in which these committees perform the duty intrusted to them. The concerts are exceedingly popular with the general public at all times, but this year of "boom," when the concerts will do so much to give the city a reputation for attractiveness, the committees should receive the heartiest encouragement:

Sergeant Barwick's Report.

The barometer began falling slowly yesterday morning by Signal Service reports reading at 4 A. M. 30.01 inches, and at noon 29.97 inches, from which time it fell rapidly, standing at 29.70 inches at 7 o'clock last night. Light rains began falling at about 12:10 p. M., and continued falling generally during the afternoon, measuring .75 of an inch at 7 o'clock, making 12.54 inches for equal date last year. The wind increased from 11 miles per hour, from the southeast, at noon, to 28 miles per hour at 7 P. M., being the highest at that hour than at any time during the afternoon. It was raining at noon yesterday from Redding down to Maxwell. Early yesterday fore-noon, while it was raining hard at the upper end of the California and Oregon Railroad, the sky was clear on "the hill. In the afternoon, however, snow began falling on the mountain. Yesterday afternoon a gale set in on the Shasta division of the Califor-nia and Oregon Railroad, and about dusk last evening it reached Sacramento.

A BALLAD OF CONSTANCY.

A mermaid sat in a pearly shell
Far, far away on the misty deep;
And she sang; "Ah, me! but I loved him well—
Retter than wave or wind can tell;.
And why does he lie so low asleep,
Far and away
From night and day?
Sorrow, weep for sorrow." I smiled on him once with a wistful smile

"I smiled on him once with a wistful smile,
And he sprang far over the ship's dark side,
And clove the crested seas awhile;
But now he lies in yon rocky isle,
And never he moveth, save with the tide?
Far and away
From night and day;
Sorrow, weep for sorrow."

A maiden sat by a barren shore
Where broke the waves of a bitter sea,
And she sang: "Ah, me! but I loved him more
Than ever a man was loved before;
And why does he not come back to me,
Far and away
From night and day?
Sorrow, weep for sorrow."

From Forest to Capital. The good old gentleman, my venerated grandfather, whom I never saw, soon after his arrival in "the city," received a con-tract from the Government to open certain avenues and streets and "lay off" the Presdent's garden, all which work he execued diligently and faithfully. Those were he days when duty to the country was held as sacred as duty to an individual. A portion of the assigned task was what the map designated as Pennsylvania Avenue and going to work with hearty will he felled the forest on its course and filled the swamps, producing for us and our successors the outline of the grandest thorough-fare in the world. Immediately south of the mansion two small hills or mounds dotted with large trees may be seen in the

For the relief and cure of all discases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels, the value of Aver's Cathartic Pills cannot be overestimated. This remedy is also unrivaled in curing Rheumatic and Neuralgic affections. For keeping the Stomach, Bowels, and Liver in good working order, I have never found any medicine equal to Ayer's Cathartic Pills. I always use this remedy when occasion requires.—Randolph Morse, Lynchburg, Va.

The latter, it is true, are not based on as complete data during 1887. It is entirely safe, however, to regard the totals for January and Febru ary, 1886, as including 85 per cent. at least of the aggregate number of employes in-terested, while the total number of strikes includes probably 90 per cent. of all of importance taking place. The record for 1887 is believed to be fairly complete. While a number of insignificant disturbances may have been omitted, it is thought that ready all beying a material or wide. that nearly all having a material or wide-spread influence have been accounted for. To obtain this record an extended corre-

EFFECTS OF THE "OLEO" LAW .- Assist

ant State Dairy Commissioner Van Valkenberg of New York, discussing the effects of the oleomargarine law in his State, said: It is true that State dairy butter is no igher now than it was two years ago at this time. The reason, however, for this is ain. Previous to the enactment of the law thousands and thousands of cows throughout the country were allowed to go dry throughout the winter, because, in many instances, butter would only bring which receives all the cleansing that nature face as level as possible.—Cor. Rural New six or seven cents a pound to the farmer. But when the oleomargarine law passed the price of genuine butter went up all over the country. The dairy business was stimulated to a high degree, and enough butter was produced to keep down prices here. I estimate that over $3,000,000 worth has een produced. This shows whether the butter business has been benefited or not Think what the law has done for the con sumer, in giving him good butter for the price which he has heretofore been com-pelled to pay for the bogus article. This is, after ali, the great gain. The recent strikes have also done much to depress the butter market. Of the 10,000 grocers in New York can always leave those things to a woman, and Brooklyn, not 200 have taken out ense to sell the stuff. In round numbers, should say that one-tenth as much oleo nargarine is now sold as before the passage

THE COLORS OF CANARIES .- With regard o the yellow color of the canary bird and ts testimony to Mr. Darwin's theory, it is said that, after domestication in Belgium. Germany, and England (a point with which emperature or climate may have had omething to do), the birds threw up on the feathers small patches of yellow of lighter color, and by carefully matching those birds that had the largest number of these patches the breeders at length, and after a considerable period, succeeded in obtaining bright and uniform yellow color, more losely resembling what are called the clear" birds of to-day. But the application of the phrase, "canary color," to indi-cate a special shade of yellow, though general, is not justified by the facts. Canaries of pure breed are to be found of many variety, the bird, though yellow in the crown, is elsewhere shaded and spangled in the most lovely manner .- All the Year

PATTI'S PECULIAR BATHS.—A peculiarity n connection with Mme. Patti's toilet has been revealed. It appears that when the diva goes to her bath, which she takes about 5 o'clock on the evenings she is to sing, she never allows the water to touch her neck and face, although the rest of her body is religiously immersed. She has a singular theory that hot or cold water produces wrinkles, and it is certainly some sort of proof that her theory is correct that, in spite of her being considerably risible on her neck, throat or face. THE GREAT CHICAGO DRAINAGE SCHEME A bill is proposed to the Legislature of llinois, providing for the incorporation of netropolitan districts, with power to borow money to supply water and to con-truct drainage or sewage channels. The primary object is to organize a metropoli-an drainage district with Chicago as a center, this district to include Hyde Park, the townships of Lake, Cicero, Jefferson, Lake View, Evanston, Niles, Norwood Park Calumet, and parts of Lyons and Worth drain this district by means of a channel cut from Lake Michigan to the Illinois river by the way of the Desplaines. The plan is to make this channel a river of the capacity of a ship canal, fall between the lake and the Illinois river, create not only a sewage channel, but a channel for navigation and water power of almost untold capacity.-Inter-Ocean.

A writer in the Patron makes the following sensible suggestions concerning the vile weed. care of horses, under the heading of "Too Much Stabling Must Go": In California horses and mules are often the tentirely too much in stables, and to this practice may be attributed the great reduction in flesh, noticeable among horses in summer, also many diseases, especially where the stable is not kept scrupulously

It is a notable fact that the Arabian hors is the finest in the world, yet in Arabia stabling is never practiced. Horses in that country are however allowed a plentiful supply of grain when it can be and although Arabia to many minds represents a desert, there are many wonderfully fertile spots of nutritious grasses, upon which the world-tamed Arabian steed

In warm weather, and with the excep tion of the mountain districts, it is never cold in California. Horses should be allowed their liberty, either in a corral or pasture, and should never be cooped up in a stable, at any rate for any length of time, for not only is a stable often warm and unhealthy, but too much stabling often deprives an animal of a large portion of naturals or a length of the chickens.

Some people cutting potatoe cutting potatoe in a pota animal which loses a considerable portion

It certainly behooves all intelliger ranch men to grow shade trees for his stock, in the meanwhile erecting brush shades, and the overuse of stables is a fatal fallacy, which if Californian farmers wish to have healthy animals, must go.

Mr. Kingsley will plant the main avenues of his tract with a row of olive trees taken from his San Gabriel ranch. Amendment Number Three.

A Resolution to propose an amendment to Section eight, of Article XI., of the Constitution of the State of California, relating to the f aming of a charter for cities of more than one hundred thousand inhabitants, and for cities of over ten thousand and less than one hundred thousand inhabitants.

Resolved, That the Legislature of the State of Researcd, That the Legislature of the state of California, at its regular session, commencing on the third day of January, eighteen hundred and eighty-seven, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two Houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby propose that Section eight, of Article XI., of the Constitution of said State, be amended so as to read as tollows:

that Section eight, of Article XI., of the Constitution of said State, be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 8. Any city containing a population of more than one hundred thousand inhabitants may frame a charter for its own government, consistent with and subject to the Constitution and laws of this State, by causing a Board of fifteen freeholders, who shall have been for at least five years qualified electors thereof, to be elected by the qualified voters of such city, at any general or special election, whose duty it shall be, within nnexy days after such election, to prepare and propose a charter for such city, which shall be signed in duplicate by the members of such Eoard, or a majority of them, and returned, one copy thereof to the Mayor, or other chief executive officer of such city, and the other to the Recorder of Deeds of the county. Such proposed charter shall then be published in two daily papers of general circulation in such city, for at least twenty days; and within not less than thirty days after such publication it shall be submitted to the qualified elections of such city, at a general or special election, and if a majority of such qualified election, and if a majority of such qualified election of such city, or if such city be consolidated with a county, or if such city be consolidated with a county, or if such city and county, and shall become the organic law thereof, and supersede any existing charter, and all amendments thereof, and all special laws inconsistent with such charter. A copy of such charter to the electors, and its ratification by them, shall be made in duplicate, and deposited, one in the office of the Secretary of State, the other, after being recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of the county, among the archives of the city. All Courts shall take judician notice thereof. held at the St. Louis Exchange, for the adoption or rejection of a city charter, which had been prepared by the forementioned Council. Prior to the election of these Councilmen, there was no law or government which was not merely nominal in its character. The only tribunal was an Alcalde's Court, in which justice was dispensed with such dispatch and appropriate the minor city offices. Some changes were also made in the government of the Fire and School Departments. pensed with such dispatch and enormous costs, that little attention was paid to liti-gation. Under this regime the people be-came eminently given to minding their own business and avoiding those legal collisions that are so generally unsatisfying in their results. Consequently when this movement was made to organize a city government, a spirit of opposition began to manifest itself among those who took a little leisure to think of matters that were not directly connected with their business.

The first Trustee was to be ex officion Mayor; the second, Street Commissioner, and the third, Superintendent of the Water Works. There should also be an Auditor, Assessor, Collector, Police Judge and such other officers as might be appointed by the Board. The term of office of the Trustees was made three years, and that of the Land Agent of the railroad company. He Land Agent of the railroad company. He the votaries of gaming. "To the President of the Council, who took a deep and lively interest in the new dispensation of things, this defeat was both unexpected and mortifying. He had exerted himself with a martyr's zeal to imbue the people with a proper conception of their wants and the prospective benefit of a city government, and while reposing upon a platform of conjectured success, he could not seem to understand the capricious and singular phenomenon which this election evolved. In demonstration of this we invite the attention of our readers to the following proclamation of the Board, no change has since been made in the elected a Third Trustee, in 1865 a Second Trustee, Assessor, Collector, Auditor and Judge, and in 1866 a First Trustee, to hold for the terms indicated. "On the 1st day of August, 1849, we were elected Councilmen of this city, and our powers or duties were not defined. On the 18th of September following we presented to you a charter for your consideration, which you have seen it to reject by a majority of 146 votes. Since then we have been unable to determine what the good people of this city desire us to do, and being Republicans in principle, and having every confidence in the ability of the people to govern themselves, we again request the residents of Sacramento city to meet at the St. Louis Exchange, at half-past 7 o'clock, on Wednesday evening, October 10, 1849, then and there to declare what they wish the Council to do. If you wish us to act under the Mexican laws now in force, however inapplicable they may be to you wish us to act under the Mexican laws now in force, however inapplicable they may be to our condition, then we must do the best we cm; if you have objection to particular features of the charter, then strike out the objectional features, and insert such as you desire. The health and safety of our city demand immediate action on your part, for in our primitive condition, and in the absence of legislative authority, we can in fact be of no service to you without your confidence and consent.

"Signed by A. M. Winn, President, and six Councilmen."

This proclamation stirred up the people and an organization in favor of a charter was effected. At a subsequent election the charter party won by 296 majority. The charter adopted was slightly different from the one originally submitted, but still it was not altogether satisfactory. In December a public meeting was held at the horse-market, and a committee appointed to draft amendments. The amended to draft amendments. The amended charter was afterward adopted by the people, and, with slight changes, was passed into a law by the first Legislature. THE CHARTER BY THE FIRST LEGISLATURE.

All subsequent city elections were to be held on the first Monday of April in each year. The matter of salaries was left with the Council, but they were not permitted to fix the salary of any officer over $3,000, except the Mayor or Recorder, where the limit was placed at $5,000.

Death of an Old Turfman. Captain Thomas G. Moore, who was the nanager of the Rancho del Paso stables a few years ago, and subsequently filled a similar position for Theodore Winters, at Rancho del Rio, died at Crab Orchard, Ken-tucky, last Saturday night, aged 76 years. popular steamboat captains on the "Fathe of Waters." He was a nephew of the fa-mous old Billy Forsythe, whose exploits as commander of the "New England" and 'Bully Fulton" are still legends of a steam ating era that antedates the apprentic ship of such pioneers as Captain Tom Lyl California, and Captain John C. Ains worth, of Oregon. In course of time he be came attracted to the turf, and in 1861, when the Woodlawn Course, at Louisville was opened, he made his appearance with two phenomenal mares—Molly Jackson and Idlewild. With the former he won the Gold Vase, four miles out, in 7:34 in a gallop on Tuesday, and two days later broke the record with Idlewild by doing a mile with ridiculous ease in 1:442, and held hard at that. The following Saturday saw the greatest three-mile heat race eve run in America, between Molly Jackson Sherrod, Colton and Betty Ward. Molly won the first heat in 5:35½, the last two miles being done in 3:35, and the next heat fell to Sherrod, a little sorrel pony bu 142 hands high, in 5:342, the last two mile in 3:34 and the sixth mile of the race in 1:45%. Then came the third heat, whose record is unbeaten to this day. Betty had been distanced in the previous heat and Molly now took the third from Sherrod by a neck in 5:284, the last two miles being done in 3:384, and the ninth mile of the race in 1:49. Colton, afterward the sire of the great Monday, was distanced, and there is no other three-mile heat race that wil bear a like analysis. The performances of these speedy ani mals gave Captain Moore great reputation and his stables were for a long time at th top notch of popularity; but bad luck and injudicious training of his racers, com bined, perhaps, with a lack of "nerve" oc casionally, as in the instance of the little gray Stonewall Jackson, in 1866, reduced his prestige. In 1875 he came to California with Wildidle, and won the Wise plate at the Bay District course, with 118 pounds up, doing four miles in 7:25, beating Grin-stead and others. Of late years he became quarrelsome and captious, and on one oc-casion shot, but not fatally. Lewis Clark, President of the Louisville Jockey Club. His love of gaming was excessive, and it is estimated that he lost during the past forty rears fully $200,000 at faro. He was re narkably well informed on all matters be ining to the turf, and when he felt talking his long experience rendered hi conversation exceedingly fascinating to al interested in such matters. Though his irrascibility interfered with his popularity many residents of Sacramento will recal im with very kindly feelings.

CONTINUATION

Admitting yesterday was a rainy day, and a bad day for the Ladies to be out, some way they managed to keep the room very well filled; hope they were not disappointed. Many a Lady was overheard telling her friend, or trying to explain how much better our $5 and $7 Hats were than those they had seen for dollars more in other Houses. We shall continue the display more in other Houses. We shall continue the display TO-DAY, and offer an Entire New Line of Hats for Ladies and Misses. For instance: Ladies' and Misses Sun Hats, trimmed with mull and a spray of flowers, for 75 cents; Canton Braid Cartwheels. 15 cents; Lightweight, High Crown, Wide Brim Mackinaw Hat for 45 cents; large variety of Misses' and Children's Dress Hats, in price from $1 25 to $3 each.
